

storage devices & MEDIA

01

magnetic media & magnetic storage devices

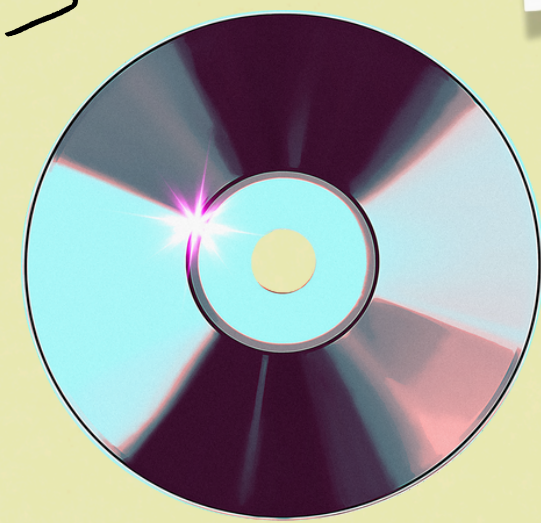

hard disk drive is an electro-mechanical data storage device that stores and retrieves digital data using magnetic storage with one or more rigid rapidly rotating platters coated with magnetic material.

optical media & optical storage devices

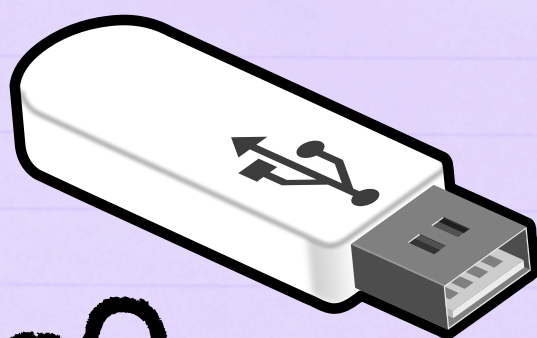

DVD-RAM:

- A type of optical media with concentric tracks, allowing for simultaneous read and write operations.

02

03

solid state media & solid state storage devices

- USB Flash Drives: These portable devices use flash memory to store and transfer data between computers and other devices. They are convenient for carrying files and are available in various capacities.